The fur will be flying when The Yellowest Yellow Lab arrives in your bookstore, gift shop or doggie boutique. Geared toward young readers and dog lovers of all ages, the new book The Yellowest Yellow Lab is a lyrical, light-hearted look at a hulking hound who's the king of the pack. The Yellowest Yellow Lab has so many wonderful qualities, but there's just one problem...he's a bit of a scaredy-cat.

The Yellowest Yellow Lab, written by Seneca Clark and Sandy Giardi, and illustrated by Julie Decedue, celebrates man's (and woman's!) best friend through bold imagery and verse. Every little boy and girl loves to read about their favorite pet, and they'll delight in this fun-packed story with a sense of humor. The Yellowest Yellow Lab is a great gift for the canine crazy, as it captures the spirit of our furry friends and why they are such true companions.

The Yellowest Yellow Lab, published by Three Bean Press, is Seneca Clark, Sandy Giardi and Julie Decedue's second book. The trio also authored and illustrated the Boston-based children's tale Lily + the Imaginary Zoo, published in June 2005.
